Dear Valued Customers:

Redesigned WLS Website

We are changing.

In recent months, all the staff at World Logistics Service reviewed and discussed internally and also asked our customers how we can better serve our customers' needs and improve the services we provide, especially through our website. We've collected great amount of valuable feedback, which is our driving force to restructure, reinvent and redesign of our company website.

By end of July, 2009, much of the hard work we had been doing to improve our website was completed. Starting August 14, 2009, our new design will be appearing on Internet and be on full display.

"We are very pleased with this new look of our website," said Mr. Masayoshi Endo, President. "It is a reminder to us that we continue to search for improvements and outstanding services to better meet customers' ever-changing requirements for our current success and future survival in this very competitive industry."

If you have any questions, please contact WLS Customer Service at 562-437-8005.

As always, we thank you for your continued support.
